THE ORIGINAL DISCOVERER OF THE

Genuine Townsend Sarsaparilla

d Dr Townsend is now about 70 years of age and ing been known as the AUTHOR, etc. FOR of the GENUINE ORIGINAL FAMOUS SARSAPARILLA. Being aware he was on d, built its most enviable reputation by which means it has kept its office in that street while so many others have come and gone, it has never been sold by Hawkers, nor has it ever been sold at less than one dollar per bottle, which fact proves it to be the cheapest article in the market. It has effected the cures of more persons who had been helpless for years, and many who were given up by the world as incurable, and snatched from death, by its extraordinary excellence and wonderful

HEALING POWER

now for many years ago that he had by his skill and experience digested a medicine which would of incalculable advantage to mankind when the ans would be fairly tried, bring it into an extensive use when its benefits would be known and appreciated. This time has come the means are used, the is unrivalled, when taken according to the directions given with the bottle, and there is not a family in the land, or scarcely a person in it, but is liable to the attacks of disease, against which it is found a complete shield, or destroyer, if taken in time.

Unlike young S. P. Townsend, he presents with age, never changes but for the better. He uses it upon his great knowledge of chemistry, and the late discoveries of the art, have all been brought into use in the manufacture of the Old Dr's Sarsaparilla. Thus it never varies, it will ever stand unchanged, one bottle is not unlike another, but is perfect and uniform throughout, no sediment, no impurities, no dregs, no flat or useless matter, but all pure, clear and active. Which fact is a great recommendation, for it is well known that the strength of any medicine is in the sediment, and that the clear, watery, tasteless stuff, called Sarsaparilla, is but little better than water, and that they are only using it as a cheap article, and to the injury of those who are deceived by it. Such are the very essential medical properties of the root which gives it all its value by a person can buy, and yet there is not three cents worth of medicinal virtue in the entire bottle. Every thing entered into the composition of Townsend's Sarsaparilla, is extracted and separated in the most perfect and scientific manner, and the accurate proportions in which they are used, is known only to the chemist, who has spent his life in the study of medicine, and the combining of the different properties of the various articles of which it is composed, so as to produce the most perfect harmony, and the greatest amount of good to the sick, and the most perfect safety to the invalid.

Suspension of Intercourse with Austria.

In the Senate, on Friday, Mr. Cass succeeded in getting his resolution on suspending diplomatic relations with Austria, considered, and upon which he made an able speech.

Mr. Cass, in introducing this subject to the attention of the country, and urging the government to the policy of attending closely to the affairs of other nations, and to giving them the benefit of our advice and our rebuke, means to place himself in a prominent position, and is acting upon principles which have long governed his public conduct. We like symetry of character. It is the perfection of the man as well as of the Statesman. If a man sympathises deeply with his oppressed fellow, we cannot but respect that sympathy. Our own heart is thereby touched by its electric excitement. But while we rejoice and glory in such an exhibition, we cannot but feel that it should be felt universally for mar in any relation, and from whatever cause is denied his true manhood and is crushed by the hand of oppression. When this is not the rule governing the man's mind or heart, we cannot but conclude that he is interiorly wrong, and that his purposes are partial or selfish and that he is deficient in true symetry of character.

Mr. Cass is eloquent on the wrongs which Austria has heaped upon the Hungarians, and in all this, every philanthropic heart will accord with him; but we cannot forget that there are social as well as political evils, and that both combined, with a dispensation of Providence united, brought the people of Ireland to death's door, by famine, and Mr. Cass failed there to give substantial comfort by his vote to that famishing people, who were stretching their helpless hands imploringly towards this country for bread to keep soul and body together. Fathers in the agony of despair, and mothers weeping in anguish, and little children forgetting their innocent prattle in the melancholly cry for bread. There was real suffering. There was the actual and palpable of oppression, but Mr. Cass was dumb when his name was called, when the easily spoken "yea" would have carried relief and comfort to so many. The substantial benefit of a real action is often worth more as a test of character and intention than a sea of words, however beautiful. We fear Mr. Cass will not stand well under such a test.

We do not mean to complain of the efforts of Mr. Cass, in reference to the course of Austria, although, we cannot but feel that his is not the best way for this government to exert its moral power even over foreign nations, while we have in our very bosom the curse of American slavery, and while we neglect so many other appropriate home duties in actual life.

Our limits will only admit of our giving two brief extracts from the report of the remarks of Mr. Cass, as follows:

The eighteenth century was prolific in the personal memoirs of active diplomatists, and no American can peruse them without being amazed at the utter insignificance of the various topics which engaged their attention, and which were swelled into consequence by the passions and interests of the retainers of corrupt courts. They are subjects beneath contempt; and their influence upon the fate of nations is buried with the men who gave them a fictitious importance. He who rises from the perusal of one of these records of human follies, can no longer wonder at the remark of a Swedish statesman, "that it took very little wisdom to govern the world, as the world was then governed." But while I maintain that the cessation of diplomatic intercourse with Austria, would give the government of that country no just cause of offence, I do not seek to denyor conceal, that the motives for the adoption of this resolution will be unacceptable, and peculiarly obnoxious to the feelings of a power proverbially haughty, in the days of its prosperity, and rendered more susceptible by recent events, which have destroyed much of its ancient prestige, and compelled it to call for Russian aid in the perilous circumstances, when the noble efforts of Hungary to assert her just rights, had placed the oppressor in a position of danger. On the contrary, the course I propose would loose half its value, were any doubts to rest upon the motives that dictate it; and certainly were they not open to the day, I should not look for this candid approbation which I now anticipate from the American people, in this first effort to vindicate by an expression of public opinion, the high principles established by our fathers as the [illegible] of this great Republic, at a time when a spirit of despotism by which human liberty and [illegible] are threatened, under circumstances [illegible] the rights of [illegible] the sentiments of the civilized world [illegible] at a parallel even in this age of war between the oppressed and the oppressor. I say this is first effort, for though the principle of public disapprobation in situations not disconnected with [illegible] in the proceedings of [illegible] representative bodies of Europe [illegible] that any formal act has been adopted rendering the censure more signal and enduring, if we take the first step in this noble course, where physical force, with its fearfuls abuse, if not conquered, may be [illegible] restrained by moral considerations, we shall add to the value of the term of [illegible] to the world, and destined to become more so, by furnishing other examples [illegible] for the preservation of human rights, where they exist, and for their recovery where they are lost.

Mr. Pres. [illegible] the position of my country [illegible] to exaggerate her importance [illegible] I am perfectly [illegible] that we may do or say, the immediate [illegible] of Austria will move in the [illegible] direction, with a step feebler or firmer, as events may [illegible] remote, until the [illegible] of the people, which is [illegible] to come as that man longs for liberty, and rings to strike the blow which shall make it [illegible] Pride's blind and power tenacious, and Austrian pride and power, though they may [illegible] before the signs of the times, before barricades and fraternization, by which streets are made fortresses, and armies [illegible] powerless, but mighty engines in popular warfare—will hold out in their citadel until the last even many.—But many old things are passing away, and Austrian despotism will pass away in its turn its bulwarks will be shaken by the rushing of mighty winds, and by the voice of the world—Whenever a benignant expression is not restrained by the kindest sympathies of arbitrary power. I desire not to be misunderstood. I do not mean that in all the revolutionary struggles which political contests bring on, it would be expedient for other governments to express their feelings of interest and sympathy. I think they should not, for there are obvious considerations which forbid this action, and the value of this kind of moral interposition would be diminished by its too frequent occurrence. It should be reserved for great events, marked by great crimes and oppression on the one side, and great misfortunes and exertions on the other, and circumstances which carry with them the sympathies of the world, like the partition of Poland and the subjugation of Hungary.—We can offer people congratulations, as we have done, to people crowned by success in their struggle for freedom. We can offer our recognition of their independence to others, as we have done, while yet the effort was pending. Have we sympathy only for the unfortunate? or is a cause less large or sacred because it is prostrated in the dust at the feet of power? Let the noble sentiments of Washington in his stirring reply to the French Minister, answer these questions. "Born in a land of liberty, my utmost recollections, my sympathetic feelings, and my best wishes are irresistably excited whenever, in any country, I see an oppressed nation unfurl the banner of freedom." I freely confess that I shall hail the day with pleasure when the Government, reflecting the true sentiments of the people, shall express the sympathy for struggling millions, seeking that liberty which was given to them by God, but has been wrested from them by man.

* * * * * * *

Mr. Cass read from the London Times, an address to Lord John Russel and Lord Palmerston from eighty-three members of the Houses of Lords and Commons, requesting the influence of the British Government to endeavor to restrain that of Austria from further butchery. He passed under review the right of Hungary, with reference to its Constitution and its connection with Austria. He examined the character of the Hungarian Government which swept away the liberties of Hungary; and justified that Government in every subsequent step she took. He described the condition of Hungary, as to her sufferings and rights, in the glowing words of Kossuth himself, and then sketched the events of the war, of the conquest of the Austrian armies by the brave Hungarians; the call upon Russia for help, and the final overwhelming of that unhappy country. The Russian scenter the blood from afar, and Hungary fell, like Poland, before the Cossack, an everlasting reproach to the contemners of the laws of God and man who accomplish these nefarious schemes. He had presented this brief review of the rights and wrongs of Hungary, not as the direct motive of adopting his resolution; he chose to put that upon another ground,—the ground of atrocious cruelty; but because he desired to take from Austrian advocates—if there were any in this country—he knew there were none in that Senate—the last excuse for these violations of the common feelings of our nature, by showing that the attack upon Hungarian independence was as reckless and unjustifiable, as were the cruelties inflicted upon the Hungarian people. After painting the horrors of the Austrian vengeance on Hungary, and quoting from Kossuth's noble appeal to Lord Palmerston on the occasion of his being solicited to turn renegade to his religion, he continued: Now sir, I say it without reserve, that the power thus acting at defiance the opinion of the world, and violating the best feelings of our nature, in the very wantonness of successful cruelty, has no bond of union with the American people. The sooner our diplomatic intercourse is dissolved, with marks of indignant reprobation, the sooner shall we perform an act of public duty which at home and abroad will meet with feelings of kind sympathy from all, wherever they may be, who are not its subjects for the tender mercies of Austrian power.

Fire at Milo.

We learn from our correspondent that the dwelling house of M. L. Durgin at Milo was destroyed by fire, together with all his effects except a part of his tools, on Monday the 24th ult. One of his children about three years old dropped (according to the child's story) a lighted match among some shavings in an unfinished part of the house, which caused the fire. Loss $700. No Insurance.

Mr. Durgin is a blacksmith by trade, a man of good standing in society, and a worthy member of Pleasant River Division, No. 13, Sons of Temperance. His house being burnt he is left with his wife and six small children without a home.

He is recommended to benevolent men generally, and to the Sons of Temperance in particular, as an object worthy of their aid.

Monthly Law Reporter—New Series, January, 1850.

We continue regularly to receive our numbers of this valuable period cal, containing a great amount as well as variety of legal information. The later numbers, we believe not only sustain, but improve upon the former character of the publication, and every month adds new claims to support from those for whom it is more particularly designed. Having for its field the whole legal face of the country from which to glean its contents, and having in its service the first legal minds of the country to assist in its work, with an able editor at its head it seems to us justly entitled to the most liberal support of all those connected with the profession. At the same time it is far from being without value and interest to the man of business in other employments as also to the general reader.

Among the contents of the present number we notice the report of one case involving the question of title under a mortgage to secure future advances, where subsequent mortgages or attachments are made of the same property.

The American Fowl-Breeder.

This is a valuable little work published by John P. Jewett & Company, Boston, containing information on breeding, rearing, diseases and management of Domestic Poultry; also suggestions concerning the choice of pure stock, crossing, artificial incubation, &c.

This work comes out just at the time when much attention is directed to the subject of Fowl-Breeding, and its suggestions will be of much service.

Copies of this book may be found at Bugbee's Book store.

J. H. Buckley, who recently died in New London, has left the bulk of his property to found a free school in that city. The money is to be put at interest until it amounts to $60,000. None but residents of New London are to be admitted into the school.

☞ The Screamer Dr. Mann left our city yesterday for home. He says he shall return by and by with a new-milch Durham Short Horn to furnish strippings to go with his molasses for the comfort and cure of his patients, who, until then, must themselves have patience.

Dr. Woodward, who was for many years at the head of the State Lunatic Asylum, at Worcester, died recently at Northampton, Mass, his place of residence.

The Committee on resolutions, reported the following which, on motion, after some remarks upon them by Messrs Brown of Bangor, Weymouth of Orono, DeWolf of Oldtown, Rev Mr Godfrey of Orono and Rev Mr Tilton of Hampden, were unanimously adopted.

RESOLUTIONS.

Whereas Laws are enacted and civil governments established, for the protection of public and individual rights, and are the measure of justice between man and man; and, whereas magistrates are appointed, courts instituted, and juries empannelled to ensure that protection and mete out justice; therefore,

Resolved, 1. That efforts to enforce the laws peaceably made through the legitimate tribunals, are not to be tortured into crimes; and that all attempts to shield violators of the law, by imposing bonds or penalties upon men who thus enforce the law, either by magistrates or others, are illegal, oppressive and criminal.

2. That we have the fullest confidence in the legitimate judicial tribunals of our State, in our Courts and Juries; and that we fearlessly appeal to the Judges and Juries thereof to protect and sustain us in our efforts to enforce the Liquor Law of 1846, and suitably to punish those, who, by lawless force and violence, undertake to thwart our legal and beneficent purposes.

3. That we have the best evidence that our confidence has not been misplaced, in the wholesome and deserved rebuke administered by the Grand Inquest of this county, by its refusal so nearly unanimous, to entertain the Law of conspiracy, as laid down by the minions and magistrates of the rum-power.

4. That we look with the same confidence to the Bench, and the Trial Juries of this county, of the court now in session in this city, for a firm and unwavering administration of justice.

5. That the exhibitions of the rum-power in this county, which closed a long series of outrages upon the persons and property of temperance men, by the outrageous and cowardly assault upon Asa Walker, Esq. of Bangor, on the night of the 22nd of August last, while in the peaceable and honest discharge of his professional duties are calculated to arouse and energise every friend of law and order in the community, to suppress a traffic so brutalizing as to render men capable of such enormities.

6. That in view of what has been accomplished by the League, and the prospect of still greater success before us, we will redouble our efforts and our contributions to aid and urge forward the objects of the League; and that we recommend to each member of the League, to become doubly a member by paying to its funds another dollar to forward its objects and hasten its triumphs.

7. That we have yet to learn, what special benefits liquor sellers have conferred upon community, to entitle them to exemption from the penalties of the laws they violate, or to earn them a tenderness, asked for no other offenders against the laws of the land.

8. That we recommend to every professed temperance man to take sides in this matter, and if he is not for us, to be openly and manfully against us, to choose WHERE he will stand—and stand MANE.

9. That the business of retailing intoxicating drinks, under the form, and in the name of "Cherry," and other "Bitters," in the public houses and elsewhere, is as disreputable and injurious, as it is disgusting and unlawful; and that it ought to be suppressed by legal prosecutions.

On motion, T. S. Brown, Bangor, C H DeWolf, Oldtown, Rev H. C Tilton, Hampden, James Allen and J. S. Kimball, Bangor, were chosen a committee to wait on the venders of medical preparations believed to be productive of intemperance, either in person, or by address—to use their utmost endeavors to suppress such traffic.

Adjourned, sine die.

We copy from the Boston Atlas the following spirited lyric—and trust that we violate no confidence when we mention that it is from the pen of Hon George Lunt:

KOSSUTH.

Kossuth! the world's great soul
Has kindled at thy name;
Once more her blazoned scroll
Unfolds Eternal Fame,—
Points to her starry brand,
The few and quickly told,
And stamps with a perpetual hand,
Thine mid the names of old.

What though the field be lost,
Where bleeding Freedom lies,
And cowards decm the cost
But sanctioned by the prize;
The noble heart can feel,
(Its manly duty done,)
Alike the wreath, the cell, the steel—
From the battles loss or won.

Enough, that once again
Goes forth the rallying word,
And in man's heart and brain
The stagnant pool is stirred;
From out his soul divine
Has shot anewer gleam,—
The paling despot sees it shine,
The serf beholds the beam.

No! Freedom's cause shall rise!
By heaven, and earth, and man,
By the lone dungeon's cries,
By scourge, and rack, and chain;
By thy bright kindred souls—
By them, the dead, the free—
Once more the voice of Ages rolls,
Kossuth! and calls for thee!

From the distinguished Geo. E. Buddington, M. D., Coxsackie, New York, as to the virtues of Corbett's Sarsaparilla, and the Shaker

FLUID OF VALERIAN.

Coxsackie, Green Co., N. Y., Nov. 18, 1849.

Messrs. E. Brinley & Co.—

Dear Sirs.—You are, I believe, the Proprietors of the Shaker Fluid Extract of Valerian, and also Corbett's Compound Syrup of Sarsaparilla. From my experience of the value of the Fluid Extract, having used it within the last year quite freely, in my capacity as Assistant under Dr. Stedman, at the City Institution, South Boston, Mass., I feel unwilling to be without it in my practice.

I have given a bottle of this medicine to Dr. John Ely of this place, and requested him to give it a trial. He has done so and is now enthusiastic in its praise. The same is true of Dr. J. B. Hewshaw, who is now using it in his family. As to the Sarsaparilla, our community use much of different preparations of this article. But from my knowledge of them and the absence of any good results following their use, I consider it my duty as a Physician to discontinue use them.

But the article of Dr. Corbett comes attended with causes sufficient to establish for it a reputation that cannot be shaken, and insures for it a sale commensurate with its value. It is the only article of Sarsaparilla I have my confidence in, and shall not hesitate freely to recommend it. Will you send me some of each particle?

Truly your obt servant,

GEO. E. BUDDINGTON, M. D.

COOKING STOVE

IMPROVED FOR 1849 & 50,

AND combining more advantages for cooking, than any other Stove ever offered for sale in this Market.

WM. S. MITCHELL & CO

WOULD inform their friends and the public in general, that they have just received another lot of the above justly celebrated Cook Stoves which makes their assortment equal to any in the city

The Priam of Troy

Has the largest and best oven of any Stove ever invented It will take in from four to ten of the largest sized plates, and it is heated equally and perfectly even by means of deep hollow grooves in the back and bottom of the oven, and the flues from three to five hundred square inches more surface to the oven than can be done by a plain surface—The Stove is so arranged that the wood burns upon a self clearing grate, which gives you a clear and brisk fire, without being to the trouble of first clearing your fire room of ashes, and the fire can be preserved as long as any other Cook Stove.

There is a set of large Rims or Rings connected with the Stove, so that our Farmers and all who wish to use large brass or iron Kettles or any kind of old fashioned Ware holding from one to ten pails can do it at their pleasure The whole Stove is regulated by means of only one damper, is neat in its appearance, and in fact is one of the best companions for the kitchen now in use as thousands who now have them will testify

MAYOR'S OFFICE
Bangor, Dec 28, 1849

SIR —From my own observation I am satisfied that there are in this city, inhabitants, boys who are in our streets at unseasonable hours of the night much to the detriment of its peace and order of the city, and who are acquiring for themselves habits in sin—the tendency of which is calculated to do them infinite and lasting harm I feel confident, therefore, that the time has come, when if parents fail to do their duty to their children, the police should do them to the public

You will, therefore arrest all such boys that may be found in the public streets after nine o clock P M, and all larger boys, that may be found there after ten o clock P M unless they can give a satisfactory excuse, and carry or send them home to their parents

And if they persist in being found in the streets at these unseasonable hours you will empty our rest them, and confine them in the "watch house" until morning You will be vigilant yourself and will also give such directions to the night police, as is necessary to carry into full effect the statute and laws of the State, and ordinances of the city, designed to promote the peace and order of the same WILLIAM H MILLS Mayor

THIS truly valuable Remedy for the diseases of the lungs and throat has become the chief reliance of the medical world in the most certain and dangerous diseases of the lungs. Without a power equal to cut off the coughs, shorten the acute and relieve the most desperate and almost hopeless cases of Consumption it is also in diseases of the throat and lungs, such as Croup, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, and Bronchial Consumption—Read below the opinion of men who are well qualified to give an opinion on the subject

PROF CLEAVELAND of Bowdoin College, Me Writes—"I have witnessed the effects of your Cherry Pectoral in my own family and that of my friends, and it gives me satisfaction to state in its favor that no medicine I have ever known has proved so eminently successful in curing diseases of the throat and lungs"

REV DR OSGOOD

Writes—"That I should be thus long in being obliged to keep the room confined with a severe settled cough, accompanied by raising of the cough, night sweats and the attendant symptoms of Consumption, commenced the use of the Cherry Pectoral and had completely recovered, also that he considers Cherry Pectoral the best remedy for pulmonary complaints ever given to the public"

DIRECT EVIDENCE

Springfield Nov 27, 1848

Dr Ayer Dear Sir—Your Cherry Pectoral is proceeding the last of November, 1847, I had been reduced very low with a very severe Cough accompanied by spitting of blood and profuse night sweats By the advice of my attending physician, I was induced to use your Cherry Pectoral and continued to do so till I considered myself cured, and ascribe the effect to your preparation James Harper

At the office of Hon Geo Ashmun Mem Congress Springfield, Mass

DR PERKINS President Vermont Medical College, Writes—"Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is one of the most truly valuable preparations that has fallen under our notice After careful examination, we cannot hesitate to say we have a large class of diseases in this country and the fullest confidence in its curative effects in coughs and lung complaints"

Most Wonderful Cure of a man 80 years of Age.

In the month of November, 1848, I was attacked with inflammation in my great toe, which soon broke out in a virulent sore Mortification ensued and the first joint of the toe came off At this time I was under the care of the most eminent physician in the country—every remedy had been tried but without any benefit, my age, my constitution, the state of my health and my feeble frame, no one can imagine, the case was pronounced incurable by my physicians, and I had become so bad that my friends despaired of my ever being able to move, and after four months confinement to my bed, finally told me I must prepare to die—but as soon as the wound was first seen by my wife, relative and attending surgeon, I gave up under our Doctor's friends brought a bottle of HUNT'S LINIMENT which he said would relieve the pain. I applied it and the effect was wonderful, it seemed as if new life was given to me. In a surprisingly short space of time the inflammation was subdued, and two 50 cent bottles entirely cured me, to the astonishment of myself and the whole neighborhood. He is Lament aged my life. I am 80 years of age and have seen the public Press of human being may know the value of the great medicine

Extraordinary case of Hip and Spinal Disease

SOMERSET CO, Me Aug 27, 1848

Gentlemen—I saw that a cure for Lameness was known to exist, that you have called it Hunt's Liniment. About 3 years ago I was injured in the hip, and the hip and spine so badly that I could not move without the aid of crutches

I grew gradually worse for long years although I tried the care of two successful Physicians who had long been my cases at opulence My limb pained and broke out in coming of a running sore, and I was suffering with such severe pain that I could not rest at ease. With a sense of the disease, I commenced using Hunt's Liniment, which I have since used about 20 Bottles during the last year, the sore is entirely healed, I am free from pain, and only can a cane in walking. I think the use of your Liniment saved my life and I am in no one can at well from My whole health, and I feel grateful to my sufferings and the cure.

SPITTING BLOOD.

New York, April 28, 1847

Dr. Townsend—I really believe that your Sarsaparilla has been the means through Providence, of saving my life I have for several years had a hard cough I became worse and worse. At last I raised large quantities of blood, and night sweats and was greatly debilitated and reduced, and did not expect to live—I have only used your Sarsaparilla a short time, and there has a wonderful change taken place, I weight as one I am now able to walk all over the city. I raise no blood, and my cough is lessened. You can well imagine that I am thankful for these results.

Your obedient servant,

WM RUSSELL, 55 Catherine st.

RHEUMATISM.

This is only one of more than four thousand cases of Rheumatism that Dr Townsend's Sarsaparilla has cured. The most severe and chronic cases are weekly endorsed by the strongest testimony

James Cummings, Esq, one of the assistants at the Lunatic Asylum, Blackwell's Island, sent a gentleman spoke of it in the following

Blackwell's Island, Sept 14, 1847

Dr Townsend—Dear Sir I have suffered terribly for nine years with the Rheumatism, considerable of the time I could not eat, sleep or walk. I had tried almost every known remedy, and my limbs were terribly swollen I have used four bottles of your Sarsaparilla, and they have done me more than any three dollars worth of good I am almost better—indeed, I am entirely relieved. You are at liberty to use this for the benefit of the afflicted. Yours respectfully,

JAMES CUMMINGS.

FITS! FITS! FITS!

Dr Townsend not having tested his Sarsaparilla in cases of Fits, thought it our duty to make it, and were surprised to receive the following from an intelligent and respectable Farmer in Westchester County

Northam, August 13 1847

Dr Townsend—Dear Sir I have a little girl, seven years of age, who has been severely afflicted with Fits we tried almost every thing for her, but without success, at last, although we could not recommend it, thought we must try your Sarsaparilla, we thought, as she was in very delicate health, we would give her some of your Sarsaparilla, and we very glad we did, for it not only restored her strength, but she has had no return of the Fits, to our great pleasure and surprise. She is now becoming rugged and hearty, for which we feel grateful Yours respectfully

JOHN BULLER, Jr.

FEMALE MEDICINE.

Dr Townsend's Sarsaparilla is a sovereign and speedy cure for Leucorrhœa, Inflammation, Barrenness, Leucorrhœa (Whites or Falling of the Womb), Costiveness, Piles, Leucorrhœa or Whites, obstructed or difficult Menstruation, Incontinence of Urine or involuntary Discharge thereof, and for the general prostration of the system—no matter of what duration, whether from cause or causes, produced by irregularity, illness, or accident. Nothing can be more surprising than its invigorating effects on the human frame. Persons all weaknesses and Lassitude, from whatever cause, become active and full of life and vigor. It immediately counteracts the nervousness of the female frame, which is the great cause of Barrenness—It will not have expected results, in cases of Sterility, unless the parties are in good health and in order for conception, but we can assure the afflicted, that hundreds of them have been restored to Happiness Thousands of young married females have been without children, after long years of hopeless suffering, who have used Dr Townsend's Sarsaparilla, and have now healthy offspring, to bless and cheer their parents. Thousands of young ladies who have been afflicted with Fits, have been cured by this invaluable medicine, save the children from an early death.

TO MARRIED AND MARRIED LADIES

The introduction of Sarsaparilla has not been prepared in order to be a female complaints. No female will have reason to suppose she is approaching that critical period, Change of Life, should neglect to take it, as it is a certain preventative for any of the numerous and terrible diseases to which females are liable at that time of life. This period may be delayed for several years by using this medicine! Not is it less valuable for those who are approaching women who are in a delicate state of health, and who are suffering from the effects of improper treatment, or the indiscretions of youth. Indeed this medicine is invaluable for all the delicate diseases to which women are subject

It purges the whole system, removes permanently the impure humors—by removing the impurities of the body, not so far as to produce subsequent relaxation—which is the case of most medicines taken for female weakness and disease. By using a few bottles of this medicine, many hours of pain and painful surgical operations may be avoided.

GREAT BLESSING TO MOTHERS AND CHILDREN

It is the safest and most efficient medicine for purifying the system and relieving the sufferings attendant upon childbirth ever discovered. It strengthens with the mother and child, prevents pain and diseases, and secures the health of both—those who have used it think it is indispensable. It is highly useful both before and after confinement, as it prevents diseases attendant upon childbirth—in Cow Fevers Cramps, Swelling of the Feet, Despondency, Heartburn, Vomiting, Pain in the Back and Loins, False Pains, Hemorrhage, and in regulating the secretions and equalizing the circulation it has no equal. The great beauty of this medicine is, it is always safe, and the most delicate use it most successfully, very few cases require more than one bottle, and children, in some a little Castor Oil or Magnesia is useful. Operates in the open air, and right food with this medicine, will always ensure a speedy and easy confinement.

BEAUTY AND HEALTH

Cosmetics, Chalk, and a variety of preparations generally in use, when applied to the face, [illegible] of its beauty They close the pores of the skin, and clog the circulating, which, when nature is not thwarted by disease, or the age skin illumed by the ulcer is used in some, or artificial is in every production in the "human face divine," as well as in the garden of richness and delicately tinted and variegated flowers. Health, action and healthy circulation of the fluids or the blood is the pure, rich blood to the extremities is that which paints it in commencing in the most exquisite beauty It is that which imparts the indescribable shades and flashes of loveliness that all admire but none can describe. This beauty is all a offspring of nature—but of powder or soap It thus is not a fine and healthy circulation, there is no beauty If the lady is fair as lilies in snow, if she paints and use cosmetics, and the blood is thick, cold, and impure she is not beautiful If she be brown or yellow and there is pure and active blood, it gives a rich tint to the cheeks, and a brilliancy to their eyes that is fascinating

This is the reason why the southern, and especially the Spanish ladies, are so much admired. Had each the north who take but little exercise or are confined in close rooms or have spotted their complexion by the application of deleterious mixtures, if they wing to regain elasticity of step, buoyant spirits, sparkling eyes and beautiful complexions, they should use Dr Townsend's Sarsaparilla. The beauty which retained it are more than satisfied and delighted. Ladies in every station crowd our offices daily

NOTICE TO THE LADIES

Those that use Dr Townsend's Sarsaparilla have invariably called their scrofula great remedy for females, &c &c, and have copied our bills and circulars which relate to the complaints of women, word for word—other men who put up medicine have since the great success of Dr Townsend's Sarsaparilla in complaints incident to females, recommended them, although previously they did not. A number of these Bitters, Pills, &c, are held up to females, as they aggravate disease, and undermine the constitution.

SCROFULA CURED

This Certificate conclusively proves the 4th Bottle of Sarsaparilla has produced wonderful effects, the most obstinate Scrofula

Made of the blood. After 3 bottles cure the worst case ever recorded

THREE CHILDREN

Dr Townsend Dear Sir—I have the pleasure to inform you that three of my children have been cured of the scrofula by the use of your excellent medicine. They were [illegible] years old, and had sores have [illegible] I took the same away for which I am ever in the great obligation. Yr respectfully

McKENNEY'S COSSACK SALVE!!

An Invaluable Remedy

FOR Fever Sores Rheumatism, Swelling of the Feet and Limbs, Swelling of the Tonsils or Sore Throat Chronic Eruptions of the Skin, and all Scrofulous Diseases Rigid Cords occasioned by Colds or Strains Stiff Neck, Chilblains or Chapped hands, Sore or Inflamed Breast, Weakness or Pains in the Stomach, Piles, Corns, Warts and Common Sores and Cuts and Bruises of all kinds

In bringing this article before the Public, we are aware that we labor under no small disadvantage amidst the multitude of "All-Healing Ointments" and Panaceas" that are now advertised as the "most effectual" and certain cures for all diseases indiscriminately, to which man or animals are subject

A history of this Salve and the wonderful cures it has effected in the above complaints, will be found in a pamphlet accompanying each Box—a reference to which is invited before purchasing

We now boldly add that we have undertaken the task of manufacturing the above named Salve at no inconsiderable trouble and expense, not so much as a matter of speculation and pecuniary benefit as to compliance with the earnest and repeated solicitations of personal friends, and those who have experienced the wonderful medicinal and all-healing properties

To say, indeed, that we do not expect to realize handsome remuneration for our services, would be alike useless and untrue. But we flatter ourselves that if, forsooth, we are richly paid, and the article soon, very soon has an extensive sale—the Public are receiving a full and ample equivalent

As we have already intimated we do not and shall not call to our aid the empty puffing of the Press," or the "bought certificates" of individuals, and shall make use of them only so far as they have been or hereafter may be, entirely voluntary and unsolicited

The Salve is now before the Public!

They and they alone will decide upon its real virtues and medicinal properties In any less, were injustice to our selves—to say more would be superfluous

Here are some of the many Certificates—

The subscriber was afflicted with a Fever Sore upon his leg for about six years, and in the winter of 1845 it commenced swelling from the ankle to the knee After using many remedies without success, I applied some Salve obtained of Mr A M McKenney and continued its application until I had used six bottles, which entirely cured me and I have had no return of the disease since I would also say that I know the above Salve to be a cure for Corns, one of my family having used it for this purpose with complete success

DANIEL SEAVEY

Dexter, (Maine) May, 1846

This certifies that one of my sons having been afflicted with a Fever Sore for more than a year, and having tried various means to effect a cure without success which cost me about forty dollars, I bought 14 oz of GENUINE McKENNEY'S SALVE, which effected an entire cure in less than two months

SIMEON MARSTON

Gray, May 11, 1846

Mr McKenney—In going into the woods in the autumn of last year with the large gang of quite a number of men, for the winter lumbering operation, I was induced to take a few boxes of your Salve, it has been recommended to me as one of the best remedies for accidental Cuts and Bruises, and I found indeed, to my great satisfaction, that it was an invaluable article I also made application of it in cases of Cuts, Sprains and Bruises upon my cattle and found it equally beneficial It can truly be called the All-Healing Salve

TEMPLE, N H, Jan 17, 1849

"Dr S Jewett

Dear Sir,—I have examined your Pulmonary Elixir, and am well assured that it merits the full confidence of the community, as being what it purports to be, an efficient and safe remedy for all the diseases to which the vital organs of the subject is liable Used with much more safety than almost any other article offered for this purpose, in much less danger of impaired action of those organs, the frequent and legitimate result of most other remedies of the class by reason of their opiate character, is, by this, entire obviated

The physician who should meet with this formula, would find it a ready assistant, by which his own labor in the day time, if not in the night, would be obviated, and his efforts for relief eventually aided.
